Szczecin (Stettin) Coal Harbor (Kaszubski Basin)

1. The wharf previously called Katowickie has, since the death of Stalin, been renamed Stalinogrodskie.
2. The two Polish-built coal elevator rigs on the Bytomskie wharf are being dismantled. They have never worked properly and have now been given up completely.¹

1. Comment: On the Bytomskie wharf, besides the above mentioned elevators, there is also a rig which seems to work very well. Earlier reports have mentioned the difficulties with the Polish equipment, but this is the first time that a report has been received concerning their dismantling.
